

Contents

Cécile Michel, Michael Friedrich and Jorrit Kelder

Written Artefacts, Transmitted Literature and Missing Evidence: An Introduction — 1

Absence of Evidence: Lost or Neglected

Christophe Helmke and Kerry Hull

The Lost Libraries: An Archaeology of Maya Books — 15

Alessandro Bausi

Missing Evidence and Clues to Evidence, a Dialectic Process:
The Apostolic Tradition — 65

Nicholas Sims-Williams

Reconstructing the Book of Zambasta: The Role of ‘Missing Evidence’ — 95

Quantity of Evidence: Too Little or Too Much

Cécile Michel

Identifying Missing Evidence in an Abundant Cuneiform Corpus — 121

Pierre Tallet

Minding the Gap: The Administrative Documents of the Old Kingdom and the Wadi el-Jarf Archive — 147

Michael Friedrich

Some Methodological Reflections Concerning Ancient Chinese Manuscripts — 161

Quality of Evidence: Fragmentary or Contradictory

Jorrit Kelder

Missing Evidence and Evidence Dismissed: Mycenaean Archaeology and Its Struggle with Contemporary Written Sources — 203

Dominique Briquel

Direct and Indirect Evidence about Etruscans: Partial and Contradictory Views — 221

In Lieu of a Conclusion

Oskar von Hinüber

Missing, Lost, and Forgotten Sources: Some Thoughts on the Situation in Ancient India — 255

Contributors — 281

Indices — 283